

JUROR AGAIN BREAKS DOWN; TRIAL IS OFF

---

CENTERVILLE JURY DISCHARGED
BECAUSE OF MENTAL CONDITION OF WM.

Centerville, Mich., Dec. 1.—The J. Frank Manley murder trial has been called off on account of the mental condition of Juror William Dillon, who suffered a second breakdown in the jury box late Wednesday afternoon. The jury was discharged and the case will be set for trial within a few days.

Revolting details of the crime as told by witnesses are said to have unbalanced Mr. Dillon's mind. He collapsed in the courtroom Monday afternoon, but recovered sufficiently to permit the resumption of the trial Wednesday. After the second breakdown the case was postponed until this morning, but in the meantime Mr. Dillon's condition became so serious that a continuance of the hearing, physicians said, would result in permanent insanity, possibly death.

Dillon's condition is greatly improved today and his recovery seems assured.
